

Dear Colleagues,
Greetings from the WCTE 2020 Secretariat

In the context of the World Conference on Timber Engineering 2020 (WCTE 2020), which will be held on August 24-27, 2020, Santiago, Chile, we are pleased to invite you to participate in this new version and announce that the abstract registration system has been open in our homepage. Potential authors are encouraged to submit a two-page abstract according to the WCTE 2020 template on-line submission system until the 31 of October 2019.

This conference is held biennially, and for the first time in its history South America will be its host. The WCTE is the center of the discussion about the latest advances related to timber construction, sustainable forest management, public policies and new construction solutions.

To make sure that the documents have high quality, all abstracts will be reviewed by the International Scientific Committee. The abstracts should bring to the discussion new information, so ones previously published or presented at international meetings will not be accepted unless it is proven that new data about the subject is provided.

The topics for the WCTE 2020 are: "Sustainable Forest for Lumber Production", "Wood Product and Connections", "Timber Engineering", "Timber Architecture", "Building and Environment Impact", "Policies Implementation and Management" and "Education, Promotion and Future Trends". The corresponding subtopics are detailed on the official website. Also, this year we have added a study case option that will be available as a subtopic of any of the main seven topics.

Thank you for taking the time to read this mail. If you have any further questions regarding this or any subject, please reach us by phone or via email.

Sincerely,

Conference Secretariat,
2020 World Conference on Timber Engineering
