Guidelines for preparation of abstracts

The importance of forest diseases increases as global environments are affected by pandemics, invasive species and climate change. Scientists are encouraged to submit abstracts on research involving foliar, shoot, stem and rust diseases of trees as we deal with this dynamic environment. The workshop scientific program will be organized in oral and poster presentations. We invite all interested participants to submit abstracts for scientific presentations. Although we will try to accommodate as many presentations as possible, the Scientific Committee, will reserve the right to change your application from an oral presentation to a poster presentation where necessary if time constraints become a problem. A selection of papers submitted to the meeting will be published in a special issue of the journal Frontiers in Forests and Global Change. To present a paper or a poster, you must submit your completed abstract by February 2022 as an attachment to isabel.munck@usda.gov. Please indicate in your message whether your abstract is for an Oral Presentation or a Poster Presentation. All abstracts must be in Microsoft Word format, Font type and size: Times New Roman 12, Line spacing: single, scientific names in italics. They must indicate Title, Author(s), Address(es) of authors, E-mail of corresponding author. Please underline the name of the presenting author. An example of formatting requirements is included below.
