

MSc in Tropical Forestry

Faculty of Environmental Sciences - Department of Forest Sciences

STUDY AT TU DRESDEN IN GERMANY - The cradle of forestry

Application 2022 - 2024 is open from April 1st!

More info

Deadlines

- Non-EU citizens: 31st of May 2022
- EU citizens: 15th of July 2022

Course language:

English

Admission requirements:

Undergraduate degree in forestry or related subjects

Course organization:

Begins in October every year, duration 24 months

Application requirements:

- English language certificate
- Letter of motivation (two pages)
- University degree certificate and academic transcripts
- School-leaving certificate
- Curriculum vitae

Note: As TU Dresden is a public university, all students are exempted from tuition fees!

The Master course qualifies future decision-makers and change agents to develop sustainable forest management strategies and implement development-relevant interventions in rural and peri-urban areas. The studies provide expert knowledge to handle manifold human-forest interactions and sustainable development issues.

Its international orientation and social science focus make this program unique in Europe. You will profit from the multidisciplinary international experience of TUD's research scientists and lecturers.

TECHNISCHE
UNIVERSITÄT
DRESDEN

